

SNOWSPORTS MANAGEMENT TEAM

Todd Clarke, Director of Ski and Recreation Services

Todd Clarke began skiing at the age of three and during his high school years worked as a junior ski patrol volunteer at Okemo Mountain in Vermont.

At Wintergreen Resort, Todd oversees several mountain operation divisions including Snowsports School, Treehouse kid's programs, Discovery Ridge Adventure Center, Ski and Snowboard Rental Center, Activities and Events, and Mountain Host program.

Todd attended the University of Utah, and some of his former positions included Moonlight Basin, Big Sky Montana - Director of Mountain Resort Services/Operations; Alyeska Resort, Girdwood, Alaska - Director of Marketing and Resort Services; Salt Lake Organizing Committee (2002 Olympics), Salt Lake City, Utah - Event Services Venue Manager for the Deer Valley Resort/Park City Mountain Resort; the American Skiing Company – Utah, Park City, Utah, Marketing, Advertising, Events Manager for The Canyons, and Partnership Marketing Manager-West for Heavenly, Steamboat and The Canyons.

Todd resides in Crozet, Virginia. He has two boys who enjoy endless activities with skiing at the top of their list.

Zachary Marlowe, Director of Mountain Operations

Zach began skiing at a very young age. He skied often and at 14 joined the Junior Ski Patrol at Ski Liberty in Pennsylvania. At 17, during his senior year in high school, he took and passed the Outdoor Emergency Care Medical class and joined the National Ski Patrol. A Senior Patroller as of 2003, he was awarded the National Ski Patrol's Purple Star in 2007 for a lifesaving act. He skis Alpine, Tele-market, and some snowboard.

As Wintergreen director of mountain operations, Zach is responsible for the resort's high-tech snowmaking operation, lift operations and maintenance, vehicle maintenance, terrain and slope grooming, safety patrol, landscaping, pool maintenance, compressor operations, and the raw water utilized in the manufacturing of Wintergreen's signature SNOWPOWER capabilities.

Zach graduated from Shepherd University with a Degree in Photography and Digital imagery. Throughout his four years at college, he continued working as a patrol throughout as the school is close to Ski Liberty. He is an active National Ski Areas Association committee member committed to the creation of a computer-based training course for Professional Ski Instructors of America with the goal of serving on the National B77 Ski Lift Committee.

Zach's ski centric life is outdoor driven. He loves mountain biking, tennis, climbing, water skiing, hiking and golf. He lives in Crozet, Virginia, with wife Danielle, whom he met at Ski Liberty, and their children who began skiing before age one.

Tucker Crolius, Ski Patrol Director

Since 1998, Tucker Crolius has been Wintergreen Resort's Ski Patrol Director and responsible for 40 paid and 100 volunteer patrollers. Tucker directs ski patrol operations in compliance with area management policies and procedures, as well as oversees the OEC and sled training. Previously, he was the Ski Patrol Shift Supervisor for three years directing day-to-day operations and conducting accident investigations while managing a staff of 18. From 1993 to 1995, he served as a professional and volunteer ski patroller, performing assigned patrol duties and participating in senior and certified clinics and sled training. He was named Wintergreen Patroller of the Year for the 1997-1998 season.

Tucker earned his Bachelor Degree in finance and Masters in Business Administration from Lehigh University in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, where he completed his undergraduate degree in a three-year accelerated program. Tucker has held a number of professional positions in the financial arena, including CFO of Clouse & Company, Inc., a consulting firm in Gastonia, North Carolina; the General Manager of the Country Club of Staunton, in Staunton, Virginia; and CFO of the Jack Smith Agency, an advertising firm in Roanoke, Virginia.

A member of the National Ski Patrol, Tucker is an avid golfer, tennis player, and skier. He has serious interest in the game of chess.
